The Four-Way Test At It's Finest

Next Meeting

Michelle Candland Editor

The packed room was brought to attention by our fearless leader President Bob, proudly sporting his "National Pretzel Day" tie. Where does he find these beauties? He recognized the many visiting Rotarians present to cheer on their club's 4-Way Test Speech Contest contenders in the 2018 District 5340 Finals. Also present were several visiting Past District Governors and current DG, Scott Carr. Larry Kuntz shared an Inspirational Moment encouraging the students who were preparing to speak to be confident, be prepared and to not be afraid! Past President Debbie Day lead us in the Pledge and was accompanied by Katie Fulhorst on the piano with a resounding rendition of America The Beautiful.

President Bob introduced our Chair of the Day and MC, Jack Berkman, co-chair of our 4-Way Test Speech Contest Committee, who kicked off the event with his typical zany humor and energy. We were riveted by six students doing an extraordinary job of sharing each of their subjects with passion and commitment. It was very difficult for the judges to single out first, second, and third place winners after hearing all the students demonstrate their remarkable public speaking skills and emotionally deliver their specific messages. To listen to each of the speeches in their entirety click here and be prepared to be wowed!

Speaker #1 Jess Kennedy, sponsored by the Vista High Noon Club, explored her personal journey through a mid-teen crisis as she narrowed down her career choices and landed on a solid middle class decision--a high school English teacher. She explained that although initially her decision seemed to be a disappointment to her parents, by the end of her speech, it was clear she had followed her heart and was confident she would pursue a truly noble path.

Speaker #2 Annaclare Splettstoeszer, sponsored by the Rancho Bernardo Sunrise Club, began her speech using the Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School shooting as an example of heartbreaking tragedy and explained that even in those dark times, something positive can come out of it. She identified the student movement to impact the current gun control laws as one of the powerful demonstrations of confidence, hope and tenacious focus that came out of that horrible day and acknowledged that the students who lead that movement were all active in speech and debate classes. Something worthwhile can always come out of tragedy.

Speaker #3 Cole Mullins, sponsored by the Rotary Club of Coronado, reflected on what a difference the Boy Scouting experience has made in his life. He talked about his first camping trip on Catalina Island and how frightened he was that he would be eaten by island foxes! Over the years, he has learned to be confident, dependable and service-minded. Without scouting, he is certain he would not be the successful young man he is today.

Speaker #4 Ashley Lo, sponsored by the Rancho Bernardo Sunrise Club, began with a quote from Bill Gates, "Be nice to nerds. Chances are you will end up working for one!" She is a self-identified nerd and described how the standard perception of a brainiac was someone to be bullied, belittled and ignored. She is out to change the perception of a nerd. Her new definition is: A Nerd: a person who refuses to accept stagnation in society. One who does not fear breaking the barriers of knowledge. A person who is hungry for progress.

Speaker #5 Kaseba Chibweth, sponsored by Club 33, passionately described what beauty is in her eyes and how much harm and pain can be inflicted when someone is judged merely on their exterior appearance rather than given the opportunity to demonstrate their inner beauty. Society has labeled and judged people who may or may not be tall, slim, blonde and blueyed and treats them accordingly. Kaseba has an inner beauty that radiates and she's confidently sharing her message with all those around her to look beyond the cover of the book.

Speaker #6 Josh Tran, sponsored by the Rotary Club of Carlsbad, opened his speech using courtroom lingo and confidently explained he was drawn to the Supreme Court and civil rights law.

CALLING ALL CLUB 33 HOSTS FOR INTERNATIONAL YOUTH MUSICAMP 2018!!!

Every year over 20 international youth musicians between the ages of 15-22 visit San Diego for three weeks to perform with our own top rated San Diego Youth Symphony. Rotarians are needed to provide housing to the students during their 3-week stay. This is a wonderful opportunity to make a difference in a young person's life, introduce them to San Diego (often its their first time to the US!), and bring music and international culture into your home. The Host Families are supported with transportation to and from rehearsals and, if needed, concerts. Fellow District Rotarians provide them with parties, surfing, zoo and Sea World trips. As a Host Family, you are invited to rehearsals. fellowships with other Rotarians and their international youth students, and all concerts. Students arrive approximately July 14th and depart August 5th. If you are interested in hosting or learning more about this life-changing opportunity please contact either Club 33 member Christy White (858-336-4795, cwhite@christywhite.com) or Camp Director Gary McCord (858-525-1202, gcmcelroy@gmail.com).

The Four-Way Test At It's Finest Continued from page 1

He presented an oral argument for the fact that our judicial system is broken and needs to be repaired. He is committed to service and all things civil rights oriented and intends to dedicate his life to righting wrongs and making our judicial system a more just, fair, equality based process.

The speeches were judged by three esteemed individuals: Steve Cohen, News Director at KUSI TV, Fred Pierce, CEO of Pierce Education Properties and Beth Kransberger from National University. When they left the room to confer, the students were individually introduced and asked a number of questions by Jack Berkman regarding their future plans and advice they would give a younger student about entering the 4-Way Test Speech Contest. We were all awed by their mature thoughtful answers. When the judges returned, the following were the results of a very close competition:

1st Place: Kaseba Chibweth
2nd Place: Jess Kennedy
3rd Place: Josh Tran
Finalists:

Ashley Lo

$1,000 award
$ 750 award
$ 500 award
$ 300 award each

Cole Mullins

Annaclare Splettstoeszer

A huge thanks went out to all Rotarians who took the time to help all the students who had the courage to participate and as members left the room, many of them could be heard saying, "This is one of my favorite programs all year," "Amazing," and "Inspirational!"

HOOVER INTERACT

On Wednesday April 25th, 17 Rotarians joined the Price Philanthropies team to interview 105 Hoover High freshmen for the incoming Interact Class of 2021. It was a great afternoon for everyone as our club continues its wonderful partnership with Price Philanthropies.

GROTARIAN COMMITTEE

Thank you to Michael Brunker for hosting our April Grotarian event at the Jackie Robinson Family YMCA. Everyone truly enjoyed seeing the newly renovated facility. We did not just see a softball field and a gym, but we learned how the funds were raised for these areas, the support that this YMCA has from the community, and more importantly, about the people who use the facilities and what this YMCA means to them. Michael, for your first Grotarian event, you sure knocked it out of the ball park!
