

Regenerative Medicine

Next Meeting

“If you add an enzyme, you are making a drug.”

Ah, the things we learn at Rotary! Today’s program on stem cell research raised our average IQ three points. With 54 slides (yes, 54 slides) and big words like viscosupplementation, regenerative and bisphosphonates, native San Diegan Dr. Peter Hanson mesmerized us with case studies and recent clinical research on regenerative medicine. For an orthopaedic surgeon, Dr. Hanson is pretty enthusiastic about not doing surgery!

Updating his Rotary program from two years ago, Dr. Hanson has been working with Dr. Tal David to find less invasive treatments for patients’ aching joints. Through their clinical research with biologics, they hope to avoid complications of surgery and reduce healing time and costs. We learned about new regulatory mandates by the FDA and some hopeful approved clinical trials.

Dr. Hanson is also passionate about Chronic Concussive Syndrome (CCS), brain injuries suffered by NFL and women soccer players, Navy SEALs and high school football jocks. As Director of San Diego’s Regenerative Orthopaedic and Concussion Research Foundation, his work on CCS is sought and cited both throughout the USA and globally.

Forecasting what’s next in regenerative medicine, Dr. Hanson asked, “Can we make an organ? Maybe perfectly 3-D print a cartilage lesion and fill it in?” Then he showed us how it’s done. Pretty cool!

Despite his impressive credentials and obvious intellect, Dr. Hanson was congenial, humorous and sometimes irreverent. Speaking of irreverent humor, my table-mate, President-elect Chris Sichel, offered me a heaping spoonful of his custard fruit tart during the (too many) pictures of dead rat brains. Blech.

We had time for four audience questions: What about quacks in the stem cell industry? Ortho surgery has progressed so much, what about progress on soft tissues? What are risks and outcomes of stem cell injections in the spine? And, what is your confidence in the FDA?

Today’s meeting included several noteworthy announcements and accolades:

- Rachel Inmon inspired Rotarians to say something kind. Like toothpaste squirted out of a tube, hurtful words cannot be taken back.
- New member Cathryn Nacario will be a good fit for Rotary, she loves helping others.
- Rotary International Foundation/Grants and Microcredit Committee co-Chairs Roger Haines and Walter Lam earned kudos for their countless hours of research and tireless work. President David Oates rattled off a dizzying list of deserving international service projects supported by our club.
- President David then summarized the annual report of our San Diego Rotary Foundation. Its sole mission is to support the charitable work of the Club. This past year, the Foundation distributed a stunning $570,000. Thank you to our generous Rotarians!
- Chair of the Day and recent patient of Dr. Hanson, Mike Conner, gave the visiting Rotarian one of his truly exquisite photos on glass, featuring The Milky Way. Also, he presented her a bottle of 19 Crimes wine. If you’re not familiar with 19 Crimes, the label is actually animated: the criminal tells his story.

Please extend your thanks to these Club 33 Rotarians who supported our program today:

- Badge: Toni Giffin, Jeanne Schmelzer
- Registration: Rich DeBolt, Suzanne Frontz, Ron Oliver, Edgar Takeda, Jim Wynkoop
- Greeters: Jordan Abushawish, Steve Carlson, Ron Eisenberg, Gil Johnson, Nancy Scott, Evan Wahl
- The National Anthem, passionately led with spirit by Larry Showley, accompanied by Brian Verhoye and the Club 33 Singers.
- Volunteer Photographer, Dr. Lisa Miller
- Our dedicated professional staff, Paul Devermann, Mary Radovan and Carole Ledford.

Whitney Skala’s News joke, sponsored by Jim Fitzpatrick of San Diego Magazine: One cell complained to another cell, “I can’t seem to multiply.” Said the other cell, “It’s easy, just divide.”

Next Meeting:
August 8

Bob Brewer
Unites States Attorney
For the Southern District
Of California

Robert S. Brewer, Jr., a decorated Vietnam War veteran, former prosecutor and prominent San Diego litigator for decades, was sworn in on January 16, 2019, as the United States Attorney for the Southern District of California by Chief U.S. District Court Judge Barry Ted Moskowitz.

As the United States Attorney, Bob is the chief federal law enforcement officer responsible for prosecuting and defending the interests of the United States in one of the busiest judicial districts in the nation.

Bob will talk about the San Diego U.S. Attorney’s office since he took over in January. He will briefly discuss the 2 year process of getting appointed and gaining Senate confirmation. Bob will then cover the organization, challenges, priorities, and accomplishments of the office.

Chair of the Day
Bob Russell
